1. Welcome Address

1.1 Message from the President of WorldSkills

Francis Hourant
President of WorldSkills

We meet at a moment the world will look back on. Automation is rewriting industries. Artificial intelligence is rewriting expectations. And in the middle of that change stands a simple truth: none of it means anything without skilled hands to build it. AI can process, generate, optimize, but it cannot master. Mastery is ours.

That is why WorldSkills Competitions at local, national, regional, and international levels matter more than ever before. WorldSkills was built to make sure young people don't just adapt to the future of work, but shape it.

Here in Shanghai, a city that has turned skilled hands into skylines, into precision manufacturing, into a story the whole world recognises, we gather the global skills community around one conviction: that skills are the foundation of progress.

We are grateful to our hosts the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Security, WorldSkills China, Shanghai Municipal People's Government, and the WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 Organising Committee. Delivering an event of this scale takes extraordinary partners, and the dedication behind every venue, every workshop, the Conference Programme, and every detail of this Competition reflects a shared commitment to excellence.

To every Competitor, Expert, Member, Global Partner, Event Sponsor, volunteer, and supporter, we are grateful you share our conviction that skills are the building blocks of our lives. Thank you all for your tremendous efforts to create the global stage for skills.

1.2 Message from the CEO of WorldSkills International

David Hoey
CEO of WorldSkills International

Welcome to WorldSkills Shanghai 2026, the largest skills competition the world has ever staged.

Numbers alone tell part of the story: 1,385 Competitors, 68 countries and regions, 64 skill competitions, hundreds of partners and sponsors, thousands of volunteers, and hundreds of thousands of visitors.

The standard of excellence at a WorldSkills Competition never changes. What does change is the event built around it, shaped each time by the host's objectives, venues, and ambitions. In Shanghai, that form reflects China's own ambition and national strategy.

China's TVET system is the largest in the world, training hundreds of millions of learners. Hosting here is a signal of what's possible when a nation decides WorldSkills belongs at the centre of that strategy, not the edges. My hope is that WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 encourages us all to think big about our own ambitions and goals.

The full impact of this event won't be measured in the outcomes of this week. It will be seen in the training systems raised to a higher standard, the partnerships between industry and education struck here, and the policy inspirations governments carry home. The final medal ceremony is not the finish line - it's where the real work begins.

Make the most of these days, and thank you for being such an important part of the incredible WorldSkills movement.

1.3 Message from the Organizing Committee

Wang Xiaoping

Executive Director, Organizing Committee of WorldSkills Shanghai 2026

Minister of Human Resources and Social Security of the People's Republic of China

We are honored to welcome the global skills community to Shanghai, China, for the 48th WorldSkills Competition, a premier celebration of skill. We are particularly excited and proud to witness the finest skilled youth from every corner of the globe showcase their exceptional mastery in this golden month of September.

Skills are the critical engine that advances human development and propels global prosperity. As the new wave of technological revolution and industrial transformation accelerates, skilled workers have become more vital than ever as innovators and drivers of industrial upgrade. The theme of this Event, "Master Skills, Change Your Future," captures the spirit of this era: skills unlock potential, craftsmanship builds our shared future, and together they forge connections that benefit all nations.

China is firmly committed to investing in people, as well as in physical assets. Under the Skills China Initiative, we have established a comprehensive vocational education and training framework that covers workers throughout their careers. More and more workers, especially the young, have come to appreciate the transformative power of skills, whether acquired through formal training or demonstrated in competitions like this.

This great event brings together 1,385 Competitors from 68 Member countries and regions to compete across 64 skills. Alongside the skills competitions, we will host the WorldSkills Conference and the WorldSkills Expo, offering hands-on opportunities such as "Try-a-Skill," allowing skill enthusiasts from around the world to discover and experience skills up close. We look forward to this grand gathering sparking new ideas, spreading the value of skills, and turning the outcomes of the competitions into shared assets for global skills development. We also hope it will deepen exchanges and mutual learning among nations and inspire more young people to embrace skills and build remarkable futures.

Best of luck to all Competitors, and every success to WorldSkills Shanghai 2026. I strongly believe it will be a truly innovative event with far-reaching impact.

1.4 Message from the Organizing Committee

Zhu Zhongming

Executive Director, Organizing Committee of
WorldSkills Shanghai 2026

Acting Mayor of Shanghai

A warm welcome to competitors and guests from around the world to Shanghai, China, to join us in this grand gathering of skills!

With the full support of the national government and the united efforts of the entire city, Shanghai is dedicated to hosting a WorldSkills Competition defined by fresh innovation and global impact. This is a Competition that has drawn the attention of the world. Featuring 64 skill competitions, including 7 additions, and welcoming 1,385 competitors from 68 countries and regions, this edition sets four all-time records for the number of skills, new skills, participating countries and regions, and competitors. This is a Competition that offers a fresh experience. Its “one competition, two conferences” format pairs the WorldSkills Competition with the WorldSkills Conference and the WorldSkills Expo, thus creating a grand stage for showcasing and exchanging cutting-edge skills and technologies. This is a Competition poised for fruitful outcomes. It will drive the achievement of three outcomes, namely issuing a consensus-building declaration, building a global skills innovation center to lead skill development, and establishing a global school-enterprise cooperation network to deepen skill exchanges and mutual learning. These milestones, we believe, will exert a far-reaching impact on the history of WorldSkills.

Young friends, the WorldSkills Competition belongs to you. It is your platform to shine, test your limits, and pursue your dreams. On this stage, you are invited to showcase your finest skills, live out the true spirit of craftsmanship, and create remarkable works using your smart minds and deft hands. I wish every competitor brilliant performance and great success, and I hope our guests learn from one another and build lasting friendships. Together, our united efforts will lend great momentum to realizing our vision: “Master Skills, Change Your Future.”

May the 48th WorldSkills Competition be a resounding success!

朱中明

1.5 Message from the WorldSkills Champions Trust

Competitors, we remember what you're feeling right now, because we've stood exactly where you're standing. The nerves before you pick-up the first tool. The disbelief that the years of early mornings and late nights of training led to this exact hall, this exact day.

Remember that you have already done something remarkable simply by arriving here. Carry that with you, this week and long after it.

Before you get swept into the Competition, take a breath and look around. Find your Expert and the people in the crowd who saw something in you before you saw it in yourself. Think of your training support team, your family, the employer who gave you the hours you needed to practice. None of us arrived here alone, and neither did you. This week belongs to them as much as it belongs to you.

To every Expert who shaped a skill into mastery, every Member who made the journey possible, and every Global Partner and Event Sponsor whose support made this opportunity possible, we thank you.

We are proof that being a champion of skills development doesn't end this week. We are all ambassadors. Proof to the world of what skills can achieve.

The WorldSkills Champions Trust

2. Host Country and City Introduction

2.1 Welcome to China

China is a major Eastern country with a time-honoured history, diverse cultures, magnificent landscapes, and a spirit of openness and inclusiveness. Its capital is Beijing. The country has a population of about 1.4 billion, where 56 ethnic groups live in harmony. Mandarin Chinese and standardised Chinese characters are used nationwide.

China's civilisation has flourished for 5,000 years without interruption. It is home to 61 World Heritage Sites, including the Great Wall, the Forbidden City (Palace Museum) and the Mogao Caves, as well as enduring cultural treasures such as Peking Opera, traditional Chinese medicine and martial arts.

Endowed with a vast territory and splendid scenery, China is nurtured by the Yangtze River and the Yellow River. The towering Mount Qomolangma crowns its magnificent landscape.

Today's China enjoys high fame for its economic prosperity, technological progress, and the well-being of its people. It leads the world in high-speed rail, 5G mobile telecom, and new energy vehicles. Skilled talent, as a vital force underpinning "Made in China" and "Created in China", injects strong momentum into high-quality economic development.

"Is it not a delight to have friends coming from afar?" As a responsible major country that loves peace and pursues openness and win-win results, China treats its guests with warmth and friendliness, and engages with the world with openness and inclusiveness. We welcome more foreign friends to visit, see, experience, and understand China.

Welcome to Shanghai

Shanghai is located in eastern China, at the mouth of the Yangtze River facing the Pacific Ocean. It covers an administrative area of 6,340.5 square kilometres, is divided into 16 districts, and has a permanent resident population of over 24 million. Together with the neighbouring provinces of Zhejiang, Jiangsu, and Anhui, it forms the Yangtze River Delta, one of China's most economically dynamic, open, and innovative regions.

As the forefront of China's reform and opening-up and an international city deeply connected with the world, Shanghai is accelerating the development of "five centres" — an international economic centre, an international financial centre, an international trade centre, an international shipping centre, and an international centre for scientific and technological innovation. It is striving to become a modern socialist international metropolis with global influence, playing a leading and exemplary role in advancing Chinese modernisation.

Shanghai is rich in tourism resources. The century-old buildings along the Bund exude timeless elegance, while the skyscrapers of Lujiazui present a spectacular skyline. Landmarks such as the Oriental Pearl Tower and the Shanghai Tower shine side by side. Yu Garden embodies the charm of Jiangnan water towns, and Wukang Road features the city's distinctive character. The WorldSkills Museum showcases the charm of skills. Night cruises on the Huangpu River and Shanghai Disney Resort bring together classical elegance and modern vitality.

Shanghai is served by two major international airports — Hongqiao and Pudong — as well as an extensive rail transit network and a comprehensive transport system, making travel efficient and convenient.

Open, inclusive and hospitable, today's Shanghai combines profound cultural heritage with a global vision. We sincerely welcome WorldSkills colleagues from all over the world to gather here for this grand event.

3. Event Overview

3.1 Event Overview

Participation: A total of 15,020 people across all categories have pre-registered, involving 80 countries and regions; 1,385 Competitors have registered, involving 68 countries and regions.

Skills: 64.

Expected spectators: Over 500,000.

3.2 Core Philosophy and Values

China stays committed to delivering an innovative and impactful WorldSkills Competition, which is the strategic goal guiding every stage and every aspect of preparation and delivery for WorldSkills Shanghai 2026.

"Innovative" means planning all activities of the Competition in a scientific and systematic manner in order to make the Competition distinctive and refreshing by showcasing Chinese characteristics while meeting world-class standards. Building on the successful experience and good practices of previous Competitions, WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 will pool wisdom and take the initiative to innovate, make full use of digital and modern technologies, integrate elements of Chinese innovation, explore new forms, present new content, deliver new experiences, and inject new ideas.

"Impactful" means aligning the vision of WorldSkills International with China's skills development, so that the Competition generates far-reaching influence — across the world, throughout the history of skills development, and among an ever-wider audience — and leaves a rich legacy for the WorldSkills movement. Its impact is "broad" in space, "lasting" in time, "diverse" in participants, and "profound" in advancing skilled-talent development.

Specific Measures:

I. Interactivity

By planning a rich variety of activities and visitor experiences, WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 aims to create a skills journey for all.

II. Sustainability

Committed to promoting green and sustainable development, WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 aims to minimise the carbon footprint of this Competition and create "a green and sustainable skills trend."

III. Openness

By establishing an international platform for cross-domain collaboration and mutual learning, WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 aims to make the Competition "a grandgathering of the skill community that promotes cooperation through openness."

IV. Foresight

With the WorldSkills Conference as the vehicle, WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 aims to promote the development of future TVET systems, lead the global skill development endeavor to a new height, and create a WorldSkills movement that leads into a new future.

3.3 Introduction to Relevant Organizations

About WorldSkills International:

The global WorldSkills movement

WorldSkills is a movement that is changing the lives of young people through skills. Skills build self-confidence and unlock the potential of young people across the globe. They open doors and forge connections within communities. They are the foundation of economic development and a fundamental pillar of society.

WorldSkills Members are present in 120 countries and regions around the world, sharing a mission to transform how the world values skills. Its goals are to transform how the world values skills, accelerate skills excellence through innovation, and unite all countries and regions to build stronger TVET systems.

WorldSkills Competitions are held at local, national, regional, and international levels. They measure excellence and inspire hundreds of thousands of young people to turn their passion into a profession.

At WorldSkills Shanghai 2026, the WorldSkills movement gathers at two complimentary stages. On the Competition floor, the world's best young skilled talent sets the global benchmark for excellence. At WorldSkills Conference 2026, Ministers, governments, industry, education, and young people come together to shape what comes next, building on 75 years of the WorldSkills movement.

About the Competition Organizer:

To ensure thorough preparation for the 48th WorldSkills Competition, China has established a three-tier governance structure: the National Leading Group and the Organising Committee for the 48th WorldSkills Competition, together with the WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 Executive Bureau (WSS2026) as the standing executive arm.

At the top level, the National Leading Group is responsible for implementing the instructions, decisions, and arrangements of the CPC Central Committee and the State Council on Competition preparations, conducting overall planning and research on major issues arising in the preparatory process, and coordinating major cross-regional, cross-departmental and cross-system matters.

Reporting to the Leading Group, the Organizing Committee is tasked with implementing its decisions and arrangements, organising and directing all preparatory activities, and deliberating on and deciding key matters of Event organisation.

At the operational level, the WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 Executive Bureau acts under the Organizing Committee, driving and advancing all tasks throughout the planning and delivery of the Event. It comprises 13 functional departments, namely:

- | | |
|--|---|
| •General Department | •Sponsorship & Partnership Department |
| •Human Resources Department | •Reception & Service Support Department |
| •Foreign Affairs Department | •Safety & Security Department |
| •Competition Department | •Finance Department |

7.3 Service Facilities in NECC

Lounges

One visitor lounge is available in each of Halls H1.1, H1.2, H2.1, H3, H4.1, H5.1, H6.1, and H6.2. Each lounge is located close to the hall's main entrances and exits, allowing visitors to stop and rest at any time during their visit.

One Protocol lounge is available in each of Halls H1.2 and H2.1, providing invited guests with a dedicated space for short breaks and light networking.

Luggage Storage

Each of the four entrance halls (East, South, West, and North) is equipped with a luggage storage counter, providing on-site attendees with temporary belongings storage services. The counters will be open daily from 09:00 - 17:00 between September 22 and 26 (subject to on-site operating hours). Volunteers will be assigned to handle item registration, storage and retrieval verification, and queue management to ensure the service operates safely and in an orderly manner.

Client Support Service Centre

The centre is located in the North Hall on the 8m level. Opening hours: 07:00–20:00, 17–27 September. Please note that this service is available exclusively to accredited clients.

Information Desks

A total of 20 information desks are set up across the venue: nine on the 1F (North Entrance Hall, the central circular passage, the public areas on the east and west sides, the public area in the passage between Halls H2.1 and H3.1, and the public area in the passage between Halls H5.1 and H6.1); seven on 2F (East, West and South Entrance Halls, and the central circular passage); and four on 3F (the passage around the central circle). From 17 September, selected information desks will open, with service hours from 07:30 to 18:00 before the Competition (except 18 and 22 September). From 23 to 26 September, all information desks will be open from 07:00 to 19:00.

ATMs

Two ATM locations are available: one is in the central circular area near Metro Exit 2, operated by China Construction Bank; the other is on 1F of Office Building C, operated by Bank of China. Both provide 24-hour service.

Multi-faith Rooms

Multi-faith rooms are available in the following Competition halls, each with restroom facilities nearby. The specific locations are as follows: H1.2 near Gate 9; H2.1 near Gate 10; H4.1 near Gate 15; H6.1 near Gate 8; and H6.2 near Gate 16. Please note that, depending on actual usage, the locations of some rooms may be adjusted, in which case further notice will be given.

8. Health

8.1 Medical Services

WSC2026 provides on-site medical services throughout the Event, including medical stations across the NECC, selected hotels, and other Event activities listed below. In addition, an ambulance service and a dedicated medical hotline are available.

Within NECC Public Medical Stations are open to everyone on-site. Competition Medical Points are reserved for accredited WSC2026 delegates.

If you are mobile, go to the nearest medical station. If you are unable to move, call the medical hotline instead. When you call, state that you are an accredited WorldSkills participant, and give your exact location and a description of your condition. Medical staff will respond to your location.

Present your accreditation and a form of photo identification when you arrive at a medical station. Give staff accurate details about your condition and any medication you are taking or have taken. This helps them treat you correctly and quickly.

If a medical station or the hotline team determines you need further care, they will arrange transfer by ambulance to the designated hospital.

8.2 Health Tips

Dear guests, welcome to Shanghai this September for WorldSkills Shanghai 2026! To ensure a pleasant and healthy stay in Shanghai, we would like to share the following tips on local weather and clothing, health protection, and drinking water during the event.

Weather and Clothing

Based on historical climate data, late September in Shanghai is a transitional period between summer and autumn: warm during the day and turning cool in the mornings and evenings. The average daily temperature ranges from 21-29°C, with daytime highs reaching 28-29°C and nighttime lows dropping to around 21-23°C. In addition, September has a relatively high probability of rainfall, about 10 rainy days in the month on average, mostly brief showers that pass quickly, with frequent shifts between sunshine and rain.

For these conditions, we recommend dressing in layers: a short-sleeved T-shirt or light shirt underneath, plus a light jacket or cardigan that is easy to carry. Dress lightly for outdoor activities during the day, and put on the outer layer when entering air-conditioned venues or when temperatures drop in the evening, so you can adapt comfortably.

Health Protection

If you have travelled to or stayed in areas with active infectious disease outbreaks within 21 days before arrival, or if you develop symptoms such as fever, cough, rash, or diarrhea, please inform us promptly, declare this proactively to customs upon arrival, and cooperate with customs quarantine authorities.

During the event, please maintain good personal hygiene: wash your hands regularly and follow cough etiquette in public places.

Please monitor your own health. If you develop symptoms such as fever, cough, rash, or diarrhea, contact the on-site staff or medical personnel promptly. We will guide you to medical care and provide any necessary assistance.

When seeking medical attention, please inform the medical staff of your recent travel history and any possible exposure to infectious diseases.

Feel free to ask our staff if you have any questions about personal and public health matters.

Drinking Water

Tap water must be fully boiled before it is safe to drink; please do not drink it unboiled. As temperatures vary widely between day and night, please also drink water regularly to stay hydrated and maintain good physical condition for all activities during the Event.

9. Safety and Environment

9.1 Prohibited Items List

This Prohibited Items lists (PIL) details all items that are prohibited or restricted from bringing to the WSC2026 Competition venue, the NECC.

Prohibited items refer to items that violate respective Chinese laws and regulations. If security personnel discover prohibited items, such items shall be confiscated in accordance with the law or subject to immediate emergency handling.

Restricted items refer to items that, although they do not violate Chinese laws or regulations, may compromise the security or operational order of the NECC during the WSC2026 and are therefore not permitted to be brought into the venue. If security personnel discover such restricted items, they shall instruct the person carrying them to discard the items into a designated container, arrange for their temporary storage, or otherwise dispose of them on their own.

Prohibited items in the WSC2026 Competition venue are:

- Explosives, blasting materials, or items containing explosives or blasting materials.
- Items and substances that can be used to manufacture flammable materials and pyrotechnic substances for fireworks, smoke effects, firecrackers, and similar.
- Weapons, ammunition, firearm components, simulated firearms, crossbows, bows and arrows, and other items.
- Items used for pricking or cutting – such as knives, daggers, etc.
- Flammable or explosive hazardous materials, such as gasoline and alcohol.
- Toxic substances, radioactive materials, or substances with strong odors.
- Hazardous substances such as pest control agents and pathogens of infectious diseases.
- Heroin, cocaine, cannabis, methamphetamine, and other types of narcotics.

- Promotional materials containing religious, political, or insulting content, or content that may disrupt public order or (and) violate moral or ethical standards (including banners, transparent films, posters, logos, and similar items), as well as materials promoting extremism or any items bearing derogatory or discriminatory connotations (including, but not limited to, banners, flags, symbolic signs, leaflets, and clothing).

Restricted items in the WSC2026 Competition venue are:

- Oxidizing agents and organic peroxides.
- Lighters, matches, and other ignition devices.
- Compressed gases and liquefied gases.
- Pharmaceuticals and medical products with more than one packaging type or more than seven different names (any form of factory packaging, including sprays, drops, syringes, etc.).
- Narcotic drugs, psychotropic substances and their precursor substances, including substances in pharmaceutical form.
- Aerosol containers.
- Work tools involving safety risks.
- Glass containers.
- Liquid contained in containers with a capacity of greater than 500 ml or more.
- Beverages exceeding 500ml (including alcoholic beverages, excluding baby formula, milk and other infant and child beverages.).
- All animals (except service animals such as guide dogs).
- Mobility aids not intended for transporting persons with reduced mobility, including bicycles, roller skates, skateboards, and kick scooters and standing pedal-powered vehicles.
- Items that can cause personal injury—such as balls, rackets, flying discs, baseball bats, long sticks, umbrellas with long handles, or sharp objects.
- Radio electronic equipment and high-frequency equipment.
- Televisions and professional telecommunications equipment (except for authorized media personnel).

- For photography and videography, tripod or monopod are not permitted (except for authorized media personnel); handheld small supports are unrestricted.
- Items bearing trademarks, brands, brand names, logos or other types of trademarks, or containing information not related to the event organizer or WSI partners, or items that may be used for commercial purposes.
- Technical equipment (e.g., laser devices, portable lights), radio stations, or sound amplification devices that may prevent an event from taking place or cause inconvenience to participants.
- Mobile and gliding aircraft and their models (e.g., gliders, drones, kites, etc.).
- Large-sized bags or other items that are not suitable for bringing into the venue (luggage with dimensions exceeding 50 cm x 36 cm with exception of accredited personnel bringing tools as per their Skill Infrastructure List).
- Flags with an unfolded area exceeding 2m x 1m or flagpoles with a length exceeding 1 m.
- Wearing a helmet or any other item that covers the face to make your identity difficult to identify.
- Carrying painting supplies
- Any powdered substance, regardless of its quantity (excluding formula milk and other infant foods).
- Any item resembling prohibited goods, or any replica or similar item thereof.

Medical Emergency Procedures

if you are mobile, go to the nearest medical station. If you are unable to move, call the medical hotline instead.

Medical staff will respond to your location.

If a medical station or the hotline team determines you need further care, they will arrange transfer by ambulance to the designated hospital.

9.3 Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) Requirements

Like all other equipment, the condition and safety of all Personal Protective Equipment shall be inspected by the Skill Competition Manager, Chief Expert, or Workshop Manager prior to the start of the Competition. Any PPE failing the safety inspection shall be removed from the venue. Each Competitor must ensure their PPE is in good working order. Damaged protective equipment must not be used during the Competition.

When selecting PPE, special attention must be paid to ensuring that it is suitable for the requirements of the relevant workshop and the specific activities carried out there. The manufacturer's information (operating instructions) and labels of the PPE (e.g. safety eyewear for special applications) must provide the necessary information to confirm whether the PPE is suitable for the workshop of the relevant skill competition.

Work may only commence once it is confirmed that all required PPE is provided and serviceable (free from defects). Depending on the type of work, protective equipment may include:

- Safety footwear
- Protective gloves
- Safety helmets
- Safety goggles/face protection (where required)
- Ear protection (where required)
- Respiratory protection (where required, e.g. dust masks for grooving operations)

If protective equipment becomes damaged, the Competitor must contact the Skill Competition Manager, Chief Expert, or Workshop Manager and obtain a replacement before resuming work.

10. Meetings and Events

10.1 WorldSkills Conference 2026

Dates: 23-25 September 2026

Venue: Hall 4.2 National Exhibition and Convention Center NECC (Shanghai)

As a leading global skills event, WorldSkills Conference 2026 will bridge policy and practice through a unique and forward-looking approach. Innovative and far-reaching, it will stand as a milestone gathering that fosters global consensus, sparks creativity, and shapes a sustainable future for skills. WorldSkills Conference will bring together policymakers, government officials, industry leaders, educators, and young people from around the world to address crucial topics in technical and vocational education and training (TVET), share insights on global skills development, and explore how skills can light the way forward.

MASTER HANDS
BRIGHTER FUTURES

10.1.1 WorldSkills Conference Theme: Shaping a skills-driven future

WorldSkills Conference 2026 is the premier global platform where leaders, experts, and young people come together to shape the future of skills.

Taking place alongside WorldSkills Shanghai 2026, the Conference will unite diverse voices to accelerate innovation, equity, and excellence in skills development worldwide. This is not only a gathering, but a call to action — empowering policy makers, industry, and education to share best practices and deliver skills solutions in a rapidly changing world and shape the United Nation's post-2030 agenda.

10.1.2 WorldSkills Conference Programme

23 September

Day 1 of WorldSkills Conference 2026 explores how to strengthen and scale skills systems for the future, from building human-centred, sustainable TVET ecosystems to driving international cooperation for skills recognition and mobility.

Discussions will focus on aligning strategies for the post-2030 agenda, unlocking and financing investment in TVET and apprenticeships, and tackling poverty alleviation through foundational skills. Together, these sessions highlight the critical levers for creating inclusive and future-ready skills systems worldwide.

Conference participants take part in guided tours around WorldSkills Competition 2026 and Expo, providing an insider's view of the skill competitions, educational activations, and Try-a-Skills that showcase the full spectrum of skills in action.

24 September

This day's programme explores how technology and collaboration are reshaping the future of skills. Sessions will explore AI's real impact on tomorrow's workforce, practical tools for embracing digital innovation in TVET, and new approaches to transforming teaching and training in the digital age.

A focus will be placed on industry as a vital partner in education, from driving innovation and ensuring skills systems keep pace with labour market needs. Sessions on financing mechanisms, public-private-partnerships, and PISA-VET complete the programme.

25 September

A third day has been added to the Conference programme, focusing on the future of the Global TVET agenda and the role individual countries play in advancing a skills-driven future. Sessions with a dedicated focus on African skills initiatives and the green transition will showcase best practice examples that WorldSkills Members could adopt and scale up.

Participants will also visit on fieldtrips examples of China's TVET system, explore innovative collaborations with industry, and experience the WorldSkills Museum. That evening, Conference guests will join WorldSkills, Global Partners, and Event Sponsors for a fantastic networking opportunity and reception.

One School One Member (OSOM)

Date: 22 September 2026

Venue: Paired schools

With skills and cultural exchange at its core, the event brings together Member Competitors and teachers and students from paired schools for a rich program of interactive showcases and activities. The program unfolds across three carefully designed elements: cultural displays, hands-on skills experiences, and interactive exchanges. Guided by the principle of "One school, one character; one Member, one program," every school contributes its own unique educational strengths, professional specializations, and campus culture, resulting in a tailor-made experience at each venue. Over two immersive hours, Chinese and international youth will experience first-hand the dynamic fusion of modern vocational skills and diverse traditional cultures.

10.3 WorldSkills Expo

Dates: 23–26 September 2026

Venue: NECC H5.2, NECC

Main Content/Objectives: Jointly planned and delivered by the WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 Organizing Committee and Executive Bureau, the WorldSkills Expo follows a "one main venue with multiple satellite sites" layout, with supporting areas arranged inside the venue in line with the Expo's overall plan. The Expo is structured as "One Exhibition, One Showcase, Two Zones": a multi-themed exhibition, the "One Province, One Skill" skills showcase, an interactive experience zone, and a functional services zone. Together, these elements present the achievements of skills development worldwide, promote skills culture, and foster international skills exchange, creating for a global audience a skills carnival that integrates exhibition, exchange, experience, and services.

"One Exhibition": the multi-themed exhibition. Focusing on skills development, skilled-talent cultivation and industrial innovation, it comprises the WSI Members and International Organizations Pavilion, the Global Partners and Event Sponsors Pavilion, the "One Province, One Skill" skills exhibition, and the TVET achievements exhibition. The WSI Members and International Organizations Pavilion focuses on international understanding of skills and the promotion of skills' value, presenting the shared vision and practical achievements of various countries and regions in skills development.

Among them, the China Pavilion serves a dual role as both a Member pavilion and a showcase of the host country. Narrated through a dialogue between ancient China's Four Great Inventions and modern sci-tech innovation, it systematically presents the development of vocational skills in China, the achievements in building the country's skilled workforce, and the accomplishments of the skills cause in the new era. The Global Partners and Event Sponsors Pavilion focuses on how skills empower high-quality development, showcasing new products, new technologies, and new business forms aligned with the development of new quality productive forces, as well as the industry's innovative practices in cultivating skilled talent. The "One Province, One Skill" skills exhibition highlights local cultural and skill characteristics: each Chinese region presents representative vocational skills—their history, advanced experience, innovative practices, and cutting-edge technologies—alongside their achievements in international exchange and cooperation, intangible cultural heritage, traditional craftsmanship, and extraordinary signature skills, demonstrating how vocational capability building and the integration of TVET with industry have advanced across the regions. The TVET achievements exhibition highlights China's progress in school-industry cooperation, work-based learning, programme and curriculum development, vocational training, and skilled-talent cultivation, and presents how national WorldSkills training bases have helped Chinese Competitors prepare for the Competition, achieve excellence, and translate Competition outcomes into lasting results.

"One Showcase": the "One Province, One Skill" skills showcase. Skill projects selected from regional recommendations for their appeal, visual impact, and suitability will be presented dynamically in the central showcase area, featuring extraordinary signature skills, traditional craftsmanship, and featured skills from China and abroad. Through live operation and craftsmanship demonstrations, the showcase will strengthen the Expo's sense of immediacy, participation, and reach, allowing visitors to experience up close the beauty of skills, of craftsmanship, and of ingenuity, and creating a rich skills-culture atmosphere.

"Two Zones": interactive experience and functional services. The interactive experience zone centres on immersive, participatory experiences, encouraging visitors to move from "watching skill competitions" to "experiencing and practising skills." The Try-a-Skill stations, closely aligned with the 64 skills of the Competition, offer highly interactive, hands-on activities in which visitors of all ages and backgrounds can take part. The Next Gen Makers Workshop Skills Experience Classroom provides fun, practical skills courses for young people, guiding them to discover and learn skills, sparking their interest, and letting them feel the spirit of craftsmanship. The zone will also feature a skills market, career planning consultation, and other highlights, connected by a venue-wide check-in trail linking more than 100 interactive points and enhanced by embodied-intelligence technologies such as robot guides and exoskeleton assistance, making the visit more engaging, interactive, and technologically appealing. The functional services zone, located mainly in the venue's public areas and the transitional spaces between sections, provides supporting facilities including a WorldSkills licensed merchandise area, visitor lounges, a VIP reception area, and an exhibitor service centre, offering convenient and well-rounded services for exhibitors, event participants, and visitors.

The WorldSkills Expo will give full play to the Competition's international, professional, and youth-oriented character. Through diverse exhibitions, skills showcases, and interactive experiences, it will demonstrate the vital value of skills in driving economic and social development, serving industrial innovation, and supporting personal growth; bring skills culture into public life; and deepen exchange and cooperation among countries and regions in skills development, enabling audiences from home and abroad to experience the charm and value of skills up close, and building an internationally influential platform for skills exchange and a skills carnival truly shared by all.

WorldSkills Museum

Discover the story of skills

While you are in Shanghai, take the opportunity to visit the WorldSkills Museum – the world's first museum dedicated to vocational skills.

Located in a restored historic warehouse on the banks of the Huangpu River, the Museum explores how skills have shaped our past and continue to shape our future. Across six immersive exhibition zones, discover the history of the WorldSkills movement, skills development in China, innovation and technology, and the role skilled people play in building a better world. More than 800 artefacts bring these stories to life.

For the WorldSkills community, it is also an opportunity to explore the history and achievements of the movement – including stories and objects contributed by WorldSkills Members, former Competitors and Experts, Global Partners, and the WorldSkills archives.

12. Accommodation and Transportation

12.1 Accommodation

WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 designates 28 official hotels across Shanghai, located approximately 5–40 minutes travel time from the NECC. Hotels are allocated according to participant position, client group, and WSC2026 Package.

Before travelling, check your accommodation details in Horizon, particularly if you have booked additional nights, to ensure your hotel and accommodation dates are correct.

Remember your Hotel Code. Each official hotel has a Hotel Code. You will see this code on the WSC2026 transport and signage to help you quickly identify your hotel.

Check the hotel directory below for your code.

Check-in and check-out

Information
Standard check-in	From 15:00
Standard check-out	Before 12:00
Early arrival	Early check-in is subject to availability. If your room is not ready, you may store your luggage and use the hotel facilities.
What to bring	All participants must present their original passport or ID at check-in. Visa documentation must also be presented if requested.
Accreditation	WSC package holders staying in an official hotel can collect their accreditation badge at the hotel on arrival. Please present the original identity document used for registration

WSC2026 will provide hotels with participant arrival information; however, early check-in cannot be guaranteed.

Hotel security deposits

Security deposit arrangements vary according to the hotel/client group.

Hotel group	Security deposit
Competitor Hotels	No security deposit required. In-room pay-per-use facilities are disabled, paid items are not provided, and room-charge privileges are not available.
Member Hotels	CNY 5,000 per WorldSkills Member delegation, per hotel. Payable by credit card or cash at check-in.
Other official hotels – including Global Partners, Event Sponsors, Conference and Media	The hotel's standard deposit policy applies. A credit card should be provided at check-in.

Personal hotel expenses

Participants are responsible for personal expenses and additional hotel services that are not included in their WSC2026 Package.

At Member Hotels, minibars will be removed before check-in. A credit card is required to access chargeable in-house hotel services.

Breakfast

Breakfast is provided at official hotels for eligible accommodation package holders. Breakfast is served buffet-style, with hot and cold selections, beverages, and options for a range of dietary requirements.

Breakfast location and opening times: Refer to the information provided at your hotel.

Getting to and from your hotel

Official Event transport operates between designated official hotels and Event locations according to the WSC2026 transport schedule and your position and package.

Official transport may be provided, as applicable, for travel to and from the Competition venue (NECC), Opening and Closing Ceremonies, Excursion and Welcome Reception, One School One Member, Farewell Party, and official arrival and departure points.

Check the transport information displayed at your hotel and follow WSC2026 signage and announcements for departure times and boarding locations.

Meeting rooms at official hotels

Meeting rooms may be available at official hotels for additional meetings.

Competitor Hotels: Visit the onsite Accommodation Service Centre to submit a meeting room booking request.

Other official hotels:

Before you arrive in Shanghai you can contact the Client Support Team for the hotel's contact information and coordinate the booking directly with the hotel.

For meeting room requests during the Event, contact the WSS2026 Hotel team at your hotel for assistance.

Any associated costs are payable directly to the hotel.

Official hotel directory

Official hotels are grouped according to the primary client groups accommodated at each hotel. Use the Hotel Code when following WSC2026 transport and Event signage.

15. Volunteer Programme

The volunteer programme of WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 is a warm, iconic highlight of this global skills event. Young volunteers from universities, colleges and vocational schools across Shanghai, alongside those from WorldSkills Members, will gather in Shanghai with passion and smiles, providing thoughtful services for Competitors, Experts, and guests from all corners of the globe.

A total of 3,650 volunteers have been recruited for the Event. They will be active in every corner of the event from airports and railway stations to the Competition venue and hotels, from the Opening and Closing Ceremony venue to every skill competition area, and from guest reception and media support to language services and medical assistance. Whether giving directions to overseas visitors, supporting the smooth running of the Competition, or bridging language gaps with their foreign language skills, volunteers will bring professionalism and sincere warmth to every participant, letting them experience the hospitality of Shanghai.

Volunteering at WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 is not only a precious opportunity to serve a global skills event, but also a rare chance to engage closely with the global WorldSkills community. Volunteers will interact with skilled young people from various countries and regions, broadening their horizons and building friendships through multicultural exchange. Every volunteer will embody dedication and responsibility through concrete actions, injecting youthful vitality into this event.

As global attention turns to Shanghai, these young volunteers will offer the finest service with charming smiles, creating the most vibrant backdrop for the event. They will serve the event with the spirit of craftsmanship, fully showcasing the vigour and strength of Chinese youth to the whole world.

16. Official Mobile Application

WorldSkills Shanghai 2026 (WSC2026) is the official mobile application for WorldSkills Shanghai 2026. Guided by the vision of "Smart Event Management, Convenient Services," it is available through three channels (the App, the Alipay Mini-Program, and the WeChat Mini-Program) with full-function Chinese-English bilingual support.

The app brings together all information and services for participant and visitor registration, the Competition, the Conference, the Expo and an online media centre in one place. A high-precision indoor positioning system, paired with a dedicated AI agent, provides one-stop answers to participant and spectator inquiries, together with accurate intelligent navigation inside the venue.

By covering the entire journey from registration and attendance to interaction, the app serves Competitors, spectators, exhibitors, and media personnel worldwide as an integrated, international, smart event-service platform.

17. Network Access Instructions

During the Competition, dedicated network services will be available in the following areas:

1. National Exhibition and Convention Center (NECC)

- Halls 1 to 6 (entire halls)
- Building A0: the 1F service desk area, and the 2F and 3F office areas;
Building C: the 4F and 7F office areas
- Office spaces and corridors on the 8m walkway
- West Hall, North Hall, Central Circular Plaza, 3F sponsor catering area in the Commercial Circular Building, and 5F volunteer lounges

2. Shanghai World Expo Cultural Center

- The B124 Media Centre area and the media seating area

3. 33 Official Hotels

- Breakfast areas in all hotels
- Designated areas in hotel lobbies
- Meeting rooms in Competitor hotels

Wireless dedicated network services will be provided in the above areas. Outside these areas, international participants may not be able to access the open Internet normally, and some applications and services may be unavailable. If you wish to stay connected, consider activating a data roaming plan on your mobile phone or using an eSIM. Generally, with a roaming plan or eSIM purchased outside China, your phone will still connect normally to your usual applications and services. If you purchase an eSIM outside China, please make sure to activate it and purchase sufficient data before arriving in China. Purchasing a local SIM card in China may restrict the applications and services you can use, and you may not be able to access the unrestricted Internet.

Wi-Fi Access (Wi-Fi name: We Are WorldSkills)

International participants should log in as follows to access the wired or wireless network within the covered areas:

Username: the Registration Number printed on your accreditation badge (Registration Number is located at the bottom left of the accreditation badge, below the QR code.)

Password: "Sh2026" + the Registration Number printed on your accreditation badge + your date of birth (format: YYYYMMDD)

Chinese participants should log in as follows to access the wired or wireless Internet within the covered areas (Note: wireless Internet service is temporarily unavailable at hotel premises; please use the hotel's existing Wi-Fi):

Username: Your ID Card Number (Uppercase X if present)

Password: "Sh2026" + last six digits of your ID Card Number
